Updated 1/21/2025

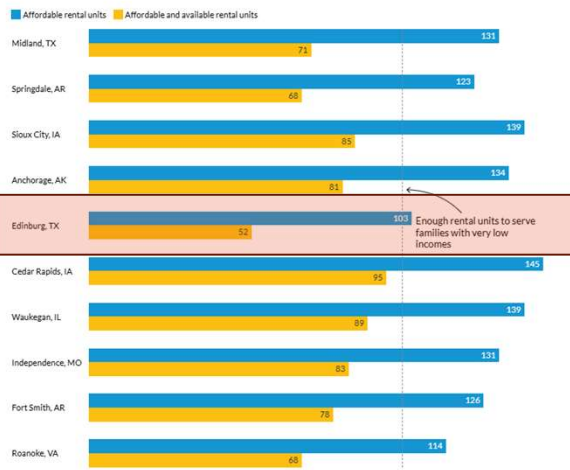

The Day One grant has enabled us to create a new Housing Solutions branch within THNs’ strategic plan to make homelessness rare, brief, and non-recurring. Under which, we will introduce two new initiatives to support that mission.

First, let’s quickly go over the current landscape of housing cost and available interventions.

Ten Cities with High Shares of Affordable Rental Housing but Low Shares of Affordable and Available Housing

Rental units per 100 households with very low incomes, by city

Family Options Study Long-term Tracking Project

Housing costs have outpaced incomes for decades, leaving half of all renters cost burdened—and for the lowest-income households, nearly three-quarters are spending over half their income on rent. As inflation continues and potential federal funding cuts loom, more families face housing instability.

Regional Insights

- NO PSH
- Lack Affordable Housing
- Cost of living skyrocketing
- No Public Transportation
- Gaps in Funding for Guardians w/disabilities, Young and pregnant, and couples

Sherman

- No PSH
- Lack of Affordable Housing
- Not enough supportive services for health needs
- No prevention funds
- Not enough services aimed toward youth.

Texarkana

- Lack of affordable Housing
- Landlord apathy to federal funds
- Units can't support larger families
- Inflexible funding
- Need longer term rental assistance

Hidalgo (McAllen)

- No programs for families
- Lack Affordable Housing
- Childcare needs
- Families with repeated evictions
- Limited Public Transportation
- Funding Gaps

Victoria

- Lack of affordable housing
- Childcare needs
- SSA/SSO is inadequate
- Housing cannot support family size
- Eviction records
- Lack of case managers

Laredo

- Lack of affordable housing
- Childcare Needs
- SSA/SSI is inadequate
- High Utility Costs
- Transportation needs
- Conflicting support services
- Limited Public Transportation

Endeavors

Using our data sharing network, we identified that just 10 regions account for 80% of families seeking services across the Balance of State, highlighting where we most urgently need to focus.

We prioritized outreach to areas with high need but low funding. Over several months, we met with each region to understand the key barriers families and agencies face in trying to exit homelessness, helping us tailor our support to local challenges.

We uncovered that housing cost is the big lever that is causing families to be ill equipped to address their other obstacles: childcare cost, healthcare costs, grocery, utility, transportation.

Benefit Incompatibility

Program	Income Cap	Asset Cap	Use Restrictions	Work Requirement	Monthly Flexibility	Requires Re-Certification?	Wait Time to Receive
SNAP	Moderate	Low	🚫 Food only	⚠️ Yes, for some adults	🚫 No — food items only	✅ Yes, every 6–12 months	🕒 2–6 weeks
TANF	Very low	Very low	🚫 Cash tracked, limited	✅ Yes, unless exempt	⚠️ Very limited cash	✅ Often monthly	🕒 1–3 months
WIC	Moderate	N/A	🚫 Specific food brands	❌ No	🚫 No — item-specific	✅ Frequent appointments	🕒 Weeks–months
SSI	Extremely low	Extremely low	❌ None	❌ No	⚠️ Modest monthly cash	✅ Ongoing income reviews	🕒 3–12 months
SSDI	N/A	N/A	❌ None	❌ No	✅ Moderate monthly cash	✅ Annual reviews	🕒 6–18 months

Many of these programs are underfunded, highly restrictive, and incompatible with one another

No single Program meets a family's full needs

Families often juggle 3-5 applications for partial support

Benefits can conflict or cancel each other out

Missed appointments or income fluctuations lead to benefits loss or penalties

These constraints strip families of dignity and autonomy at times of crisis when they are attempting to retain housing and protect their children.

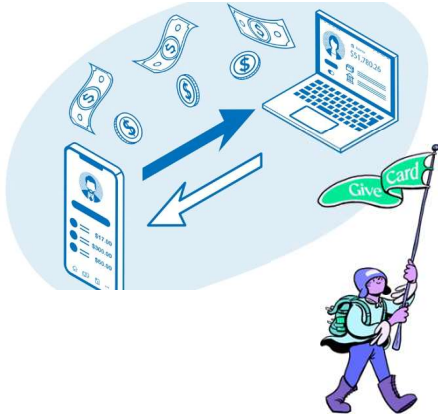

A recurring theme:

Homelessness during early childhood can profoundly derail development, with ripple effects into adolescence and adulthood. Research suggests that 1 in every 2 homeless children under the age of 4 experience developmental delays at a rate 3-4 times higher than their housed counterparts. The earlier and longer a child experiences housing instability, the more severe and lasting the impacts tend to be.

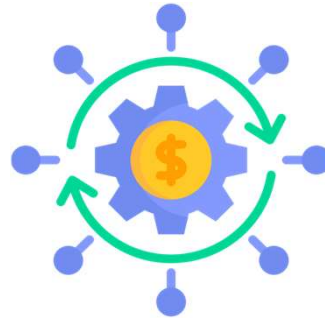

It is for that reason that we have decided to prioritize families with children within the critical developmental range 1-5.

Housing Solutions

Family Trust

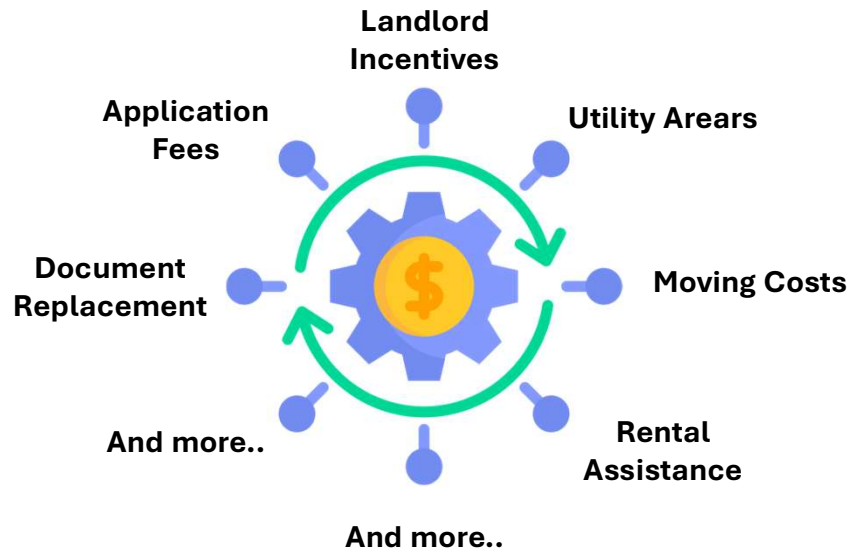

Innovation Fund

Texans haven't seen a minimum wage increase in 15 years while housing/rental costs kept rising. Projects designed to help families that have fallen into homeless episodes due to a crisis are severely underfunded – failing to meet the demand. Similarly, the programs that seek to address non-housing support are underfunded and conflict with one another.

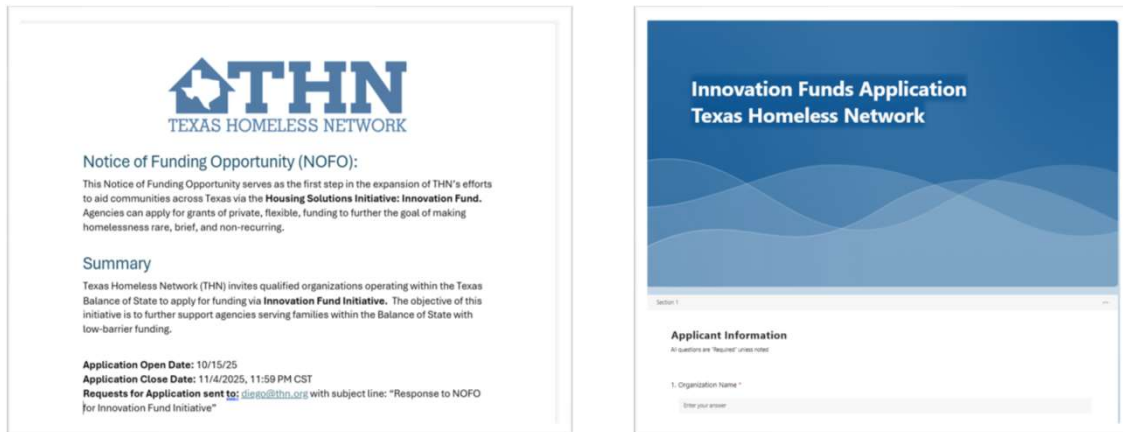

We seek to change what families are up against. Our initiatives seek to empower both agencies and families in the era of divestment.

Innovation Funds

The first initiative is something every one of our regional chats asked for: Flexible funding to address those supports that regulated grants fail to reach. This funding has the express purpose of unshackling agencies allowing them to creatively and effectively address a housing crisis. And do so without the excessive labor burden created by inflexible grant requirements.

Innovation Funds Methodology

THN
TEXAS HOMELESS NETWORK

Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO):

This Notice of Funding Opportunity serves as the first step in the expansion of THN's efforts to aid communities across Texas via the Housing Solutions Initiative: Innovation Fund. Agencies can apply for grants of private, flexible, funding to further the goal of making homelessness rare, brief, and non-recurring.

Summary

Texas Homeless Network (THN) invites qualified organizations operating within the Texas Balance of State to apply for funding via Innovation Fund Initiative. The objective of this initiative is to further support agencies serving families within the Balance of State with low-barrier funding.

Section 1

Applicant Information
All questions are "Required" unless noted.

1. Organization Name *

To do this, Texas Homeless Network will release a NOFO announcing flexible funding grants available to agencies in each of these areas. Those agencies will be able to apply via a low barrier Microsoft Forms application (click) and be awarded up to $45,000 to bolster their efforts to end family homelessness.

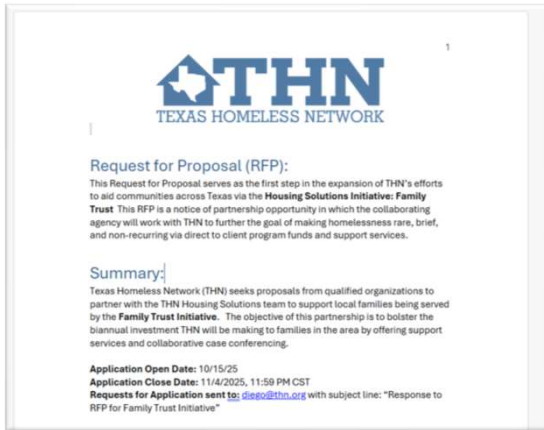

Family Trust

Our second initiative exemplifies a more concerted effort to shift power to families. We aim to cut through the fragmented system and give families agency over their own path to housing stability.

Families will work with a case manager to map their vision of housing success – not our prescription

We've developed tools to consider housing cost along with the multitude of issues we consistently see in each region: childcare cost, transportation, rental/utility arrears. These tools have allowed us to predict program funds for families; a calculated investment in each family's journey from crisis to stability

Family Case Coordinator

Family Trust Methodology

To make this work, we're releasing a RFP

Agencies will partner with THN by providing wrap around services and case conferencing with our Family Case Coordinator. We will hire this coordinator within the region to support families through their journey.

Research shows that when families are trusted and supported, the outcomes for children improve dramatically, and families often pay that trust forward.

Benefit Incompatibility

Program	Income Cap	Asset Cap	Use Restrictions	Work Requirement	Monthly Flexibility	Requires Re-Certification?	Wait Time to Receive
SNAP	Moderate	Low	🚫 Food only	⚠️ Yes, for some adults	🚫 No — food items only	✅ Yes, every 6–12 months	🕒 2–6 weeks
TANF	Very low	Very low	🚫 Cash tracked, limited	✅ Yes, unless exempt	⚠️ Very limited cash	✅ Often monthly	🕒 1–3 months
WIC	Moderate	N/A	🚫 Specific food brands	❌ No	🚫 No — item-specific	✅ Frequent appointments	🕒 Weeks–months
SSI	Extremely low	Extremely low	❌ None	❌ No	⚠️ Modest monthly cash	✅ Ongoing income reviews	🕒 3–12 months
SSDI	N/A	N/A	❌ None	❌ No	✅ Moderate monthly cash	✅ Annual reviews	🕒 6–18 months
Family Trust	Moderate/Flexible	N/A	✅ None — full autonomy	❌ No	✅ Fully flexible funds	✅ None during project lifespan	🕒 Instant–few days

When we measure Family Trust against the multitude of programs that exist to address gaps we can see that dignity and autonomy are restored back to families seeking to resolve a crisis. Requirements that often work against their journey are removed and use restrictions are replaced with flexibility to address crucial needs regardless of their category.

Working toward a Texas where homelessness is rare, brief and non-recurring will continue to require THN and our partners to paddle upstream, but we shouldn't design programs that force our clients to do the same. Research I've done supports investments in initiatives like these. Initiatives that mine the untapped potential of families and agencies we seek to support.

I'm excited to see what will come of these investments in Texans.

Thank you!
